Rev. Dr. Tudor, pastor of Broad-Street church, preached Sunday morning to a large congregation. After reading the opening lessons he commented upon the meeting to be held Tuesday night, at Beth Ahaba for the purpose of aiding the Russian refugees and commending the cause, he asked his congregation to be present. He also referred to the Governor's Thanksgiving proclamation, and stated that it was the first time his Excellency had ever sent him an engrossed copy of the order, which favor he highly appreciated.

of the order, which favor he highly appreciated.

Dr. Tudor chose his text from the latter part of the 10th verse of the 12th chapter of Second Corrinthians: "For when I am weak I am strong." This text would seem to be paradoxical in its meaning, and partakes of the nature of a riddle, said the preacher, but if closely studied it would show how it was true. Dr. Tudor's allusions to Samson were explanatory, and his review of St. Paul with his trials and sufferings was intended to give a clearer conception of Christian from letharny and keep him true to his calling. The application of the text to the progressive spirit of the age brought out a research into history, arts, and the sciences which was of such interest as to command the attention of all present. The sermon was very appropriate to the commencement of the new pastoral year.

The question "What is the faith that saves the soul'," was answered by numerous quotations from the Bible. Corrist's work was inished by his mission to the world. Our salvation of Christ is not of form. We have sinned and must repent in order to obtain the salvation offered. That repentance must not be simply for a time but perfect and thorough; our lives must have the world to aid it in becoming a fit place for the people of God.

series of meetings which will continue nightly for two weeks. The Sunday-morning meeting was alim, owing to the fire at the Cedar-Works, but there was an immense congregation at night. Mr. Ingles is an earnest and eloquent speaker and his method is very suggestive of that of Mr. Moody, at whose invitation he came to this country. After the regular night service there was a prayer-meeting and five persons went into the inquiry-room. The music of the meetings was very fine. At night Mr. Ingles recited the parable of the virgins from the Gospel of St. Matthew, and preached from St. Luke, 13th chapter and 24th to 27th verses, inclusive: "Strive to enter in at the strait gate, for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in and shall not be able." The speaker said that during twenty-five years he had preached in nearly every city of any size in all parts of the world, and that he was reloiced to have the opportunity of addressing the people of Richmond before sailing for London, where he was to begin a series of meetings to continue through several months. Large crowds were not enough. If it was only the crowded meeting that he was after, he would have grown tired of that long ago. He prayed for an outpouring of the Spirit. He related many tender incidents, and his closing appeal to the unconverted, describing the young man knocking at the door of Heaven at the last great day and begging admission because his father and mother and sister and brother were there, was very pathetic.

Mr. Micheel illustrated his remarks with maps. He gave interesting figures as to the population of India, its area, etc., his experience with the liquor traffic, and spoke at length of the Mohammedan religion and morals. He also gave an insight into the Parsec religion. The consistency of the devotees of these religions was dwelt upon at length, and one reason given why they did not accept the Christian religion was because many millions

WEEK OF PRAYER CLOSED.

There was a very interesting service at the Second Baptist church Sunday night. It was the close of the week of prayer for young and the mass-meeting was under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. Rev. A. H. Zimmerman, ex-Biate secretary of Maryland, who had been conducting the services nightly during the week, presided, and on the platform with him were Messrs. S. W. Travers (president of the Association), John R. West, B. M. Quarles, R. S. Besher, W. T. Whitehurst, R. S. Bowman, J. B. Montgomery, M. T. Smith, C. K. Willis, B. F. Johnson, Dr. J. N. Upsher, Rev. Dr. Landrum, and Rev. Mr. Williams, the city missionary.

Dr. Upsher delivered a very practical address on "Physical Works of Young Men," after which Rev. Dr. W. W. Landrum spoke on "Spiritual Work of Young Men," and Mr. John R. West took as his theme "International Work," from which he delivered a powerful address, and clearly defined the many resources which had been derived from the State by the Young WEEK OF PRAYER CLOSED.

The Young Men's Christian Association is in a state of prosperity unequalled by any period of its history. The secretary, Mr. A. Candish, has brought to his work rare gifts of organization, which are being fruttul in increased attendance and zeal. Mr. Zimmerman left yesterday morning on the 8:05 train for Pennsylvania. During his stay here he was the guest of Mr. K. S. Bosher. Mr. Zimmerman is a fluent speaker, and possesses a superb delivery. During his short stay in Richmond he accomplished much good, and, above all, won the high esteem of the people.

A reception will be given in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall on Thanksgiving day by the "ladies of the auxiliary." Dinner will be furnished and it is hoped that they will be well patronized.

Bear in mind the unquestionable fact that there is no stimulant so good as whiskey, and only one good medicinal whiskey—namely, Dully's Pure Malt. No matter what your druggist or greecer may say bear in mind the above great truths, and you will be healthier, live longer, and feel happior.

Our MEN'S OVERCOAT trade last week was of the COLOSSAL kind. We The General Assembly will proceed to the election of United States Senator the second Tuesday after organization, that is, but the 15th of December, as provided by Weight Overcoost in the house for Weight Overcoat in the house for Beginning early Monday morning in-Morrison, the deputy clerk of Scott county, who is under indictment here for defrauding the Commonwealth of large sums of money, has been declared a lunatic. The accused was recently arrested in Rogersville, Tenn., and held to await the action of the Virginia authorities. A few days ago the officers of that place delivered Morrison to his father and General Pridemore, the latter's counsel.

The accused was carried to Lynchburg, where a commission of lunscy examined him and declared him insane. Sergeant Alexander Tomlinson, who was sent to Tennessee after Morrison, yesterday morning telegraphed these facts to the Governor and asked for instructions. The officer was notified that if Morrison was deranged and in the hands of civil authorities to return home.

Beginning early Monday morning interest in them grew and grew, until Saturday it culminated into a throng that taxed our force to the utmost tension. That's what comes of an extraordinary offer. Nothing less than this could accomplish the magnificent trade done in our establishment last week. If you haven't already bought one of these Overcoats, don't put it off any longer, for at the rate they are moving it won't be long before they are all gone.
